

Eric Hormel

CPA | Shareholder

Eric, a native Oregonian, joined Perkins & Co in 1997 and is a tax shareholder at the firm. A member of our Legacy Planning Practice Group, Eric specializes in working with high net worth individuals and their families. His expertise lies in providing income and tax consulting, including review of estate plans, business succession and charitable gift planning.

Additionally, Eric works with executives on the tax issues surrounding compensation including the implications of exercising and selling stock options. Eric also leads our Creative Services Practice Group with his long history as a trusted advisor working with Portland's largest advertising and PR firms, along with other creative service companies. He offers clients proactive advice based on his extensive experience and industry knowledge.

A recipient of Portland Business Journal's 40 Under 40 Award in 2010, Eric was recognized for his dedication to client service as well as his support of not-for-profit organizations such as the Regional Arts & Culture Council.
