Chalayane Woodke, CPA

Senior Manager

Chalayane joined Perkins & Co in January 2000 and began her Perkins career in our assurance department working with a range of businesses to provide financial statement and other assurance services. She then brought the financial, accounting, internal controls and tax provision experience she acquired to the firm's tax department.

Chalayane has widespread experience working with the tax issues and business challenges faced by closely held businesses and their individual owners and has worked extensively with companies in the manufacturing, technology, and professional and creative service sectors. She enjoys collaborating with her clients in a financial and tax advisory role and has provided tax advice to numerous companies and their owners undergoing complex business transactions.

Chalayane also takes an active role in the implementation and maintenance of the firm's internal software systems and tax technical training sessions.
