

Beyond Income Tax Returns

Your annual reminder about OTHER filings for the IRS, Oregon, and Washington.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

As we at Perkins & Co will spend the start of the new year preparing for the upcoming filing season, we want to ensure you know about information reporting requirements that you may need to comply with in addition to filing income tax returns. We summarized some reminders below. If needed, we'd be happy to help you comply with any of the filings mentioned in this document. Please get in touch with us by January 10, 2026, so we can help you gather all the information needed to file in a timely fashion.

FEDERAL REMINDERS

- Information Return Due Dates

Normally Forms W2, W3 and Form 1099-NEC must be filed with the IRS and furnished to recipients by January 31 each year for wages and payments. However, because January 31 falls on a Saturday, the deadline to report wages and payments made in 2025 moves to Monday, February 2, 2026 for both paper and electronic filings. See W2 changes to overtime wages, and tip reporting under the One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA) on page 6.

The 1099-K reporting thresholds were reinstated under OBBBA.

Congress and the IRS have repeatedly modified and delayed changes to the 1099-K thresholds. Taxpayers should expect continued adjustments and should not rely solely on receipt (or non-receipt) of a Form 1099-K to determine taxability.

- Entity Tax Return Due Dates

S corporation and partnership tax returns are due March 16 this year (for calendar year entities), and C corporation returns are due a month later, on April 15 (for calendar year entities).

- Report of Foreign Bank and Financial Accounts Due Date

FinCEN Form 114 (Report of Foreign Bank and Financial Accounts) filing deadline is April 15.

OREGON REMINDERS

- Most businesses in Oregon are subject to the .57% Corporate Activity Tax (CAT) on businesses with taxable commercial activity more than $1 million, plus an additional tax of $250.
 - See additional information regarding the CAT tax beginning on page 11.
- Similar to the Federal deadlines, the deadline for filing W-2s and 1099s (that are reporting non-employee compensation) with Oregon is February 2 this year. Other forms are generally due March 31.
- Employers located within the Metro District will be required to withhold tax for the new Metro Supportive Housing Services Tax for any employee who makes over $200,000.
- Employers located within Multnomah County will be required to withhold taxes for the new Preschool For All Tax for any employee that makes over $200,000.
- "Paid Leave Oregon" applies to most employers. If you are a small employer – with fewer than 25 employees – you are not required to make payments, but you will still need to collect and submit your employees' contributions. Employees will start seeing a small deduction from their paychecks. It will not be more than 0.6% of gross wages. If your business employs 25 or more employees, you will participate and pay into the program. Employers and employees share the costs of the total 1% contribution on wages up to $176,100 per employee for 2025, which means you will pay 40% of the contribution, and your employees will pay 60%.
- Don't forget: All copies of 1099s and all W-2s must be electronically filed with Oregon, even if you're not required to electronically file them with federal authorities. There is no longer a minimum filing threshold for some forms. Failure to file electronically may land you with assessed penalties of up to $25,000.

WASHINGTON REMINDERS

- Washington doesn't have an income tax, but you may still owe the Department of Revenue money if you provide services or sell goods to Washington customers. Check out our brief guide to Washington's economic nexus rules on page 12.

Located in Washington? We are too! Let your accountant know if you'd like to meet at our Vancouver, Washington office.

IRS INFORMATION REPORTING BASICS

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) uses a variety of information return forms, including the W series and 1099 series, to capture this information and use it to double-check that no one is under-reporting income. Substantial penalties for late and/or incorrect filings have been enacted and are being enforced.

The IRS also requires you to disclose whether you have filed the required Forms 1099 on your business tax return and/or your business schedules on your personal tax return. That means if you have a Schedule C, E, or F on your 1040 tax return, we are required to ask you if you have filed these forms. See penalties on page 6.

DEADLINES AND FILING REQUIREMENTS

The Form 1099-NEC, and Form W-2 filing due date is normally January 31, with the IRS and/or the Social Security Administration (SSA). But for tax year 2025, the due date will automatically shift to February 2, 2026 since January 31 falls on a Saturday in the 2026 filing season. The same will be applied to other information returns (Form 1099-MISC, Form 1099-INT, Form 1099-DIV, Form 1098) that typically must be filed with the IRS by February 28, 2026, if paper filing, or by March 31, 2026, if filing electronically. Since February 28 falls on a Saturday, the due date to paper file shifts to March 2, 2026, and March 31, 2026 if electronic filing. In some cases, it is possible to obtain an extension of time to file information returns with the IRS and/or SSA. Regardless of how you file your government copies, most information returns must be furnished to recipients by February 2, 2026 . See Appendix C for the specific due date for each form type, from the IRS website.

To ease statement furnishing requirements of Form, Copies B, C, 1, and 2 have been made fillable online in a PDF format, and you can find those on the IRS website. You can complete these copies online, furnish them to recipients, and retain them in your own files.

If you are engaged in a trade or business and make certain payments to persons other than corporations, you may be required to file an information return. This is true for all types of payors: individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations, or any other entity engaged in a trade or business. The following is a partial list of payments that require an information return. Minimum payment amounts requiring a return are listed where applicable. This list is intended only as a general reminder. You can obtain detailed instructions from the IRS or from us.

FORM 1099

- Interest ($10)
- Dividends ($10)
- Liquidation distributions ($600)
- Payments to independent contractors ($600)
- Director's fees ($600)
- Prizes or awards ($600)
- Exchanges of services or bartering transactions (all amounts)
- Commissions ($600)
- Pension or annuity distributions ($10)
- Rents
- Royalties ($10)
- Professional fees to unincorporated:
 - Doctors ($600)
 - Accountants ($600)
 - Other professionals ($600)
- Professional fees to attorneys regardless of entity type ($600)

FORM W-2

- Wages, tips, bonuses
- Vacation allowances
- Severance pay
- Non-qualified moving expenses
- Other compensation
- Personal use value of auto
- Cost of certain group term life insurance policies
- Fringe benefits to a more than 2% shareholder of an S-Corporation – see page 9
- (See "Employer-Provided Vehicles" below)

We recommend that you obtain a Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification) from each vendor you do business with to determine the correct information to report on 1099 forms. For professional fees to non-attorneys, the Form W-9 can also tell you whether they are incorporated or not.

Form W-9 (Rev. October 2018) Department of the Treasury Internal Revenue Service	Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification ▶ Go to www.irs.gov/FormW9 for instructions and the latest information.	Give Form to the requester. Do not send to the IRS.
1 Name (as shown on your income tax return). Name is required on this line; do not leave this line blank.
2 Business name/disregarded entity name, if different from above
Print or type. Specific instructions on page 3.	3 Check appropriate box for federal tax classification of the person whose name is entered on line 1. Check only one of the following seven boxes.

Professional fees paid to unincorporated vendors (ex. Individuals, sole proprietors, partnerships, LLCs) DO require a 1099. (Perkins is an S-Corporation, so no need to send us 1099-MISCs).

Form W-9 (Rev. October 2018) Department of the Treasury Internal Revenue Service	Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification ▶ Go to www.irs.gov/FormW9 for instructions and the latest information.	Give Form to the requester. Do not send to the IRS.

When completing information returns, taxpayer identification numbers (TIN) and names must be carefully listed. The IRS automatically matches identification numbers and names. If the name does not exactly match the record for the TIN, the IRS will issue you a matching notice. For payments made to sole proprietors, show the individual's name on the first line and the business name on the second line. For payments made to single-member LLCs that are disregarded entities, enter the LLC owner's name on the first line and the LLCs on the second line, and use the LLC owner's TIN if the LLC does not have its own TIN. Failure to include the correct name and number can subject the payer to penalties (discussed in more detail below).

To combat the rising problem of identity theft, the IRS requires that you mask the recipient's taxpayer identification number on all information returns (i.e. Forms 1099 and W-2) that are sent to the payee. In other words, only the last four digits of the recipient's TIN should be visible. However, the full TIN should still appear on the government copy of the forms.

If you are required to file 10 or more information returns during the year, you must e-file. The 10-or-more requirement does not apply separately to each type of form. For example, if you must file four Forms 1098 and six Forms 1099-A, you must e-file.

The e-file requirement does not apply if you apply for and receive a hardship waiver. Search the IRS website for "How to request a waiver from e-filing". If you are required to e-file but fail to do so, and you do not have an approved waiver, you may be subject to a penalty.

If you have not previously filed 1099s electronically, you must submit an e-filing application to the IRS at least 45 days prior to the e-filing deadline. You can do this online at <https://fire.irs.gov>. You will need to apply for a Transmitter Control Code (TCC) to e-file information returns. You can e-file Forms 1099 using IRIS and/or FIRE. A separate TCC is required for each system, IRIS-TCC and/or FIRE-TCC. An IRIS TCC will not work for FIRE and vice versa. An EIN is required to apply for a TCC. Once you receive your TCC, it can be used from year to year. You can avoid applying for your own TCC by using a third-party service to e-file your 1099s. Perkins can assist you with this. The first day to e-file information returns regarding 2025 transactions will be sometime in early 2026. You can register to file W-2s electronically online at the Social Security Administration's website.

Most states also require that a copy of the information return be filed with them if that state is listed in the payor or payee/recipient address. This can get tricky, so make sure to check the state-specific requirements for both the payor and the payee/recipient. For Oregon filers, any Form 1099-G, 1099-NEC, 1099-MISC, 1099-R, W-2G, and W-2 issued by a business registered to do business in the state of Oregon must electronically file a copy with Oregon's iWire website. Oregon will not accept paper-filed returns. There is no minimum threshold of forms prepared; instead, all forms listed above must be submitted electronically. For more information, go to Oregon's iWire website.

INFORMATION RETURN PENALTIES

Penalties of up to $340 per return will be imposed for information returns as previously described under the following scenarios:

1. Failure to file an information return by the due date (including failure to file electronically, if required), and/or;
2. Failure to include all the information required to be shown on a return or the inclusion of incorrect information on a return.

The due dates are dependent on how you file and to whom you are reporting. For most forms, the due date for these returns to be sent to recipients is February 2, 2026. Form 1099-NEC is due to the IRS by February 2, 2026. All other information returns are due March 2 if filing by paper, or March 31 if filing electronically. The IRS may reduce the penalty if the failure is corrected shortly after the due date. The $340 per-return penalty will be reduced to $60 if corrected within 30 days of the original due date or to $130 if corrected by August 1 of the same year. The maximum penalties imposed on any one filer are divided into categories, depending on when or if a corrected return was filed and the size of the business (see table below). You are a "small business" for these purposes if your average annual gross receipts for the prior three years are five million dollars or less. While the penalties may seem small on a per-return basis, they add up quickly and are generally very difficult to waive. These penalties are cumulative, subject to the maximum penalty in each category as shown in the following table (note that amounts have increased from the prior year):

Maximum Penalty by Category	General Penalty Maximum	Small Business Penalty Maximum
Returns corrected by March 30	$683,000	$239,000
Returns corrected by August 1	$2,049,000	$683,000
Returns not corrected by August 1	$4,098,500	$1,366,000

The penalties are a whole different ball game for returns that were not filed due to intentional disregard of the rules. The penalty in those cases is $680 per return, with an unlimited maximum penalty. It is your responsibility to prepare or engage someone to prepare all required information returns. The penalties, as you can see, are onerous. Take care to carefully analyze all payments made during the year so that you can prepare all the proper forms.

A FEW NOTES ON W-2S AND COMPENSATION

- A. Form W-2 and the New Deductions for Tips and Overtime. Starting in 2025, OBBBA introduces two new and evolving deductions for individuals:

- Qualified Cash Tips:
 - Deduction up to $25,000 (phase-out begins at $150K single / $300K joint).
- Qualified Overtime Pay:
 - Deduction up to $12,500 (or $25,000 joint), subject to similar phase-outs. Additional IRS guidance is expected, including financial reporting mechanics and substantiation requirements.

Employer Reporting Changes

- Employers and payors must begin separately reporting tips and overtime on Forms W2 and 1099 starting in 2026.
- For 2025, IRS provides penalty relief if these amounts are not separately reported, provided total wages are accurate and forms are timely filed.

Action for Employers:

- Continue reporting total wages as usual for 2025.
- Use 2025 as a transition year to update payroll systems and tracking for tips and overtime.
- Consider providing employees with separate statements or Box 14 details for tips and overtime.

Action for Employees:

- Track your own tips and overtime in 2025 to claim deductions on your return.

- B. Due Dates: The due date for filing 2025 Forms W-2, W-3 with the SSA is February 2, 2026, whether you file using paper forms or electronically.
- C. Employer-Paid Group Term Life Insurance Coverage: Up to $50,000 of group term life insurance coverage is excluded from tax. Any amount in excess of $50,000 must be included in an employee's taxable income and is subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes (FICA). Even though any amount of coverage exceeding $50,000 is included in taxable wages, withholding of federal income tax (FIT) and state income tax (SIT) is not required. However, employers may withhold at their option. The amount of coverage must be reported as wages in Boxes 1, 3, and 5 of the employee's Form W-2 and Box 12 with code "C."
- D. Employer-Provided Vehicles: The value of an employer-provided vehicle that is available for an employee's personal use must be treated as taxable compensation, unless the employee fully reimburses the employer for that personal use. Employers may choose how frequently to include this imputed income in wages—ranging from each payroll period to an annual adjustment.

Under IRS rules, all vehicle use is presumed to be personal unless the employee adequately substantiates business mileage with contemporaneous records. Inadequate documentation can result in higher-than-expected taxable income being reported on the employee's Form W-2.

Valuation Methods

- Employers may use one of several IRS-approved valuation methods to determine the taxable value of personal use, including:
 - Annual Lease Value method
 - Cents-per-mile method
 - Commuting valuation method (if requirements are met)

Generally, once a valuation method is selected, it must continue to be used for that vehicle and employee unless the IRS permits a change. The cents-per-mile method uses the IRS standard mileage rate (70 cents per mile for 2025) and may reduce taxable income in certain situations.

Withholding and Reporting

- The value of personal use is subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes (FICA).
- Federal income tax withholding (FIT) is optional if the employee is properly notified by January 31 of the year in which the income arises (or within 30 days of vehicle availability), and the income is reported on a timely filed Form W-2.
- Employers may withhold FIT at the 22% supplemental wage rate or combine the value with regular wages for withholding purposes (if total wages are under $1 million).
- For administrative convenience, employers may use a special valuation period (such as November 1 through October 31) rather than the calendar year, provided employees are notified appropriately. Once elected, this valuation period generally must be used consistently in future years.

Alternatives to Company Vehicles

- Many employers now opt to provide cash car allowances instead of company vehicles. Unless paid under an accountable plan with substantiated business mileage, cash allowances are fully taxable and subject to FIT, FICA, FUTA, and applicable state withholding.
- Please refer to Appendices A and B for worksheets and tables to assist in calculating the taxable value of employer-provided vehicles.

E. Benefits That Exceed the De Minimis Exclusion: De minimis benefit amounts can be excluded when the benefit is of so little value (taking into account the frequency) that accounting for it would be unreasonable or administratively impractical. A common misconception is that if a fringe benefit is less than $25, it is automatically considered a de minimis benefit. However, there is no statutory authority for this position. If a fringe benefit does not qualify as de minimis, generally, the entire amount of the benefit is subject to income and employment taxes (FICA, FUTA, FITW, and SITW). Season tickets to sporting or theater events, use of an employer's residence, apartment, boat, or vacation home, and country club or athletic facility memberships do not qualify as de minimis benefits. De minimis benefits have never included cash, gift cards or certificates, or cash-equivalent items, regardless of their amount. Gift cards or certificates that cannot be converted to cash and that are otherwise a de minimis fringe benefit redeemable for only specific merchandise such as ham, turkey, or another item of similar nominal value, might be excludable from income. However, gift cards or certificates that are redeemable for a wide variety of items are deemed to be cash equivalents. Any portion of a gift card or certificate that is considered a cash equivalent should be included in the employees' Forms W-2 and subject to income and employment taxes as detailed above.

While snacks and meals provided to employees can meet the de minimis requirements, they often do not. Still, most employer-provided meals are excluded from the employees' taxable income under the accountable plan rules for working condition fringe benefits. The employer's deduction for these meals and entertainment is limited to 50% of food and beverage expenses excludable under the de minimis fringe benefit rule and quiet business meals with customers and clients (i.e., no entertainment is involved). Entertainment expenses, even for a business purpose, generally are not deductible. But food or beverage expenses related to employee recreation, such as holiday parties or annual picnics, are fully deductible when provided primarily for the benefit of rank-and-file employees.

- F. Qualified Transportation Fringe Benefits: Employers cannot deduct expenses incurred in providing any qualified transportation fringe benefits to employees. Tax-free transportation fringe benefits may still be provided to employees, but the employer will not get a deduction for providing such tax-free benefits. On December 16, 2020, the IRS published final regulations on how to calculate the disallowed deduction for employee-qualified transportation costs. While the final regulations generally follow the proposed rules, they include some helpful new positions and simplified methodologies on how to determine the cost of employee parking. For example, parking in some remote areas may be treated as having no value, so the deduction is not disallowed. The payroll tax treatment of employee parking, vanpool, and mass transit benefits remains unchanged.

Qualified commuting and parking amounts provided to the employee by the employer in excess of the monthly statutory limits are subject to FICA, FUTA, FITW, and SITW. For 2025, the statutory limits are $325 per month for qualified parking and $325 for transit passes and vanpooling. An employee can be provided both benefits for a total of $650 per month, tax-free, with the excess included in Form W-2. Amounts exceeding the limits cannot be excluded as de minimis fringe benefits.

Bicycle commuting benefits are included in taxable wages subject to FIT, FITW, FITA, and FUTA. Because these benefits are taxed to the employee as regular compensation, the benefits are deductible by the employer.

The value of any de minimis transportation benefit provided to an employee can be excluded from Form W-2. For example, an occasional taxi fare home for an employee working overtime or departing a business function such as a holiday party may be provided tax-free.

- G. S Corporation owner-employees who hold more than 2% of the company's stock aren't eligible for tax-privileged status on most fringe benefits. A 2% shareholder is any person who owns, directly or indirectly, on any day during the taxable year, more than 2% of the outstanding stock or stock possessing more than 2% of the total combined voting power of the corporation. These fringe benefits are generally excluded from the income of other employees but are taxable to 2% S corporation shareholders, similar to partners. If these fringe benefits are not included in the shareholder's Form W-2, they are not deductible for tax purposes by the S corporation. The disallowed deduction creates a mismatch of benefits and expenses among shareholders, with some shareholders paying more tax than if the fringe benefits had been properly reported on Form W-2. With the possible exception of medical benefits, these taxable-only-to-shareholders fringe benefits are also subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes.

H. Standard Mileage rates for 2025: The 2025 standard mileage rate is 70 cents per mile .

REPORT OF FOREIGN BANK AND FINANCIAL ACCOUNTS (FBAR) – FINCEN REPORT 114

If you have access to a foreign financial account or accounts (this includes bank accounts, brokerage accounts, retirement accounts, prepaid debit/credit cards purchased outside the US, and cash value life insurance) and the aggregate value of their highest balances was $10,000 USD or more at any point during a calendar year, you must file an FBAR for that year. "Access" to an account means you owned it, owned part of it, were a trustee or custodian for it, or had signature authority over the account (even if multiple signatures were required to remove funds). It doesn't matter whether the account earned any income; the filing requirements are the same either way.

The FinCEN Report 114 (which replaced the form formerly known as TD F90-22.1) is an e-file ONLY form. The filing deadline is April 15, and there is an automatic extension of the filing due date for up to six months. The FinCEN Report 114 is not administered directly by the IRS. The IRS instituted Form 8938, Statement of Specified Foreign Assets. Compared to the FinCEN Report 114, Form 8938 has much higher filing thresholds and modestly less onerous failure-to-file penalties.

Speaking of penalties: there is a minimum penalty of $10,000 per account each year you were required to file a Report 114/FBAR. If the IRS determines you knew you had a filing requirement and disregarded that filing requirement (a "willful violation"), they can assess a maximum penalty of the greater of $100,000 per account or 50% of the value of the account at the due date of the unfiled FBAR and may pursue criminal charges. A criminal conviction can result in up to five years in prison and an additional fine of $250,000 per violation. If you didn't report income related to your foreign financial account, you may be subject to additional penalties on the unpaid income tax of 20-40% of the tax due and an additional penalty of 75% of the unpaid income tax if the failure to report the income was willful.

We can assist you in filing your FBARs; however, if you believe you may have failed to file a required FBAR for a prior year, we recommend that you contact an attorney with experience in this area as soon as possible.

The IRS now offers Streamlined Offshore Asset Disclosure procedures for those who meet certain criteria, such as little income tax due to the US on income from these unreported accounts. The IRS would classify those who qualify as "low risk" and allow them a path to compliance. Also, they can come forward and be assessed lower, or even no penalties, as long as they can demonstrate reasonable cause for not having previously disclosed. These programs are available to both US resident taxpayers and US taxpayers who live abroad. For more information about FBARs, visit the IRS's FBAR page or contact us (see page 13).

MANDATORY WITHHOLDING ON PAYMENTS TO NON-US PERSONS AND NON-US ENTITIES

In conjunction with the increased media attention on US taxpayers with foreign accounts resulting from the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA), be aware that you may be required to withhold tax on most kinds of payments to non-US persons and non-US entities. Please be attentive to these requirements when working with remote contractors. In general, you are required to obtain one of the family of W-8 forms from foreign persons. On these forms, they'll either (1) attest to why they're exempt from withholding (usually because they promise to file a US tax return), (2) claim a lower treaty withholding rate and tell you what the rate is, or (3) they'll tell you to withhold as normal. Unless the payee tells you otherwise via a W-8 type form, you must withhold at least 30% and remit the withholding to the IRS on a timeline similar to payroll tax withholding. The year-end reporting form for foreign withholding is Form 1042-S for most types of payments. For more details on who is subject to this requirement and which version of the W-8 you need from each payee, review IRS Publication 515. Some foreign entities and persons are reluctant to furnish information about their US tax status. To avoid difficulties, we recommend you obtain the relevant Form W-8 prior to the payee commencing work on your behalf.

OREGON'S CORPORATE ACTIVITY TAX BASICS

Most business industries and every tax structure doing business in Oregon have been subject to the Corporate Activity Tax. It does not matter whether your business is taxed as a C Corporation, S Corporation, partnership, trust, or sole proprietor. While hospitals, not-for-profit organizations, and governmental entities are not subject to the tax, most others engaging in activities creating a taxable presence in Oregon (by meeting substantial nexus tests that have taxable commercial activity above the threshold) are subject to the tax.

The CAT is a tax of 0.57% imposed on businesses with taxable commercial activity in excess of $1 million, plus an additional tax of $250.

Only Oregon-sourced commercial activity is taxed, and there are specific forms of income excluded from the definition of commercial activity, but in general, activities that will be taxed are: sales delivered in Oregon, rents of property located in Oregon, or services provided within Oregon.

The tax is calculated by determining a business' subject commercial activity less an eligible subtraction to arrive at taxable commercial activity. Taxable commercial activity in excess of $1,000,000 is multiplied by 0.57%. $250 is then added to the resulting amount to arrive at a business' total corporate activities tax liability. Eligible subtractions include either 35% of labor or 35% of cost inputs, whichever is larger, subject to limitations.

All businesses that generate more than $750,000 of Oregon-sourced commercial activity are required to register within 30 days of meeting the $750,000 registration threshold. A penalty of $100 per month may be assessed for failing to register, up to $1,000 per calendar year. All businesses with Oregon commercial activity in excess of $1 million must file a return annually by April 15th the following year. An extension of up to six months will be granted to file a CAT return on the basis of good cause.

Estimated tax payments are required for taxpayers expecting $5,000 or more of Corporate Activity Tax liability for the 2025 tax year. A CAT liability of $5,000 for the year corresponds with taxable commercial activity equal to $1,833,252.

A BRIEF GUIDE TO CHANGES IN WASHINGTON'S ECONOMIC NEXUS RULES

Basic Facts

In 2020, Washington amended their economic nexus threshold for the B&O Tax by lowering it from $267,000 to match that of sales tax at $100,000 gross receipts. Most businesses located or doing business in Washington may be subject to the Washington Business & Occupation (B&O) tax. The tax is due on gross income from business conducted in Washington. Retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers, and service providers (to name a few) may be subject to B&O tax. You may have nexus in Washington, and therefore subject to the B&O tax, if in the current or prior calendar year:

- You have physical presence in Washington
- You are an individual who is a resident or domiciled in Washington,
- The business is organized or commercially domiciled in Washington, or
- You have more than $100,000 of gross income sourced or attributed Washington

Businesses may apportion sales out of Washington provided they can meet the above criteria in the other state. Washington's current B&O tax rate is 1.5%* of subject gross receipts for service businesses (with less than $1 million in service receipts in the prior year), 0.471% for retailers and 0.484% for wholesalers and manufacturers).

This nexus presumption also applies to Washington's retail sales tax in addition to its B&O tax. Please contact us if you have concerns about whether this will affect you

SALES AND USE TAX

In general, if you are a company selling tangible personal property or certain enumerated services remotely to customers outside of Oregon, you may be required to collect sales tax in that state. Many states have adopted an "economic presence" rule, imposing collection obligations on remote sellers whose sales to customers in that state exceed certain sales or activity threshold, generally in the prior calendar year or previous 12 months. Sellers may need to conduct an analysis on each state that has adopted, or plans to adopt, economic nexus threshold requirements for sales and use tax collection to ensure they are in compliance with all jurisdictions (state and local) in which they have customers. It is also reasonable to expect that states may use economic nexus thresholds for state income tax purposes.

In 2025, Washington significantly expanded its retail sales tax base to include additional services such as advertising services, data processing, information technology services, temporary staff, security and investigative services, and live presentations, This means that many service providers that historically were not subject to sales tax may now be required to register, collect, and remit Washington sales tax on sales to Washington customers. This highlights the importance of reviewing not only where your business has nexus, but also what you sell, as taxability rules are evolving rapidly across states.

As Oregonians, sales tax sometimes seems like a foreign concept, which is why this is of vital concern. It puts Oregon businesses at a higher risk of non-compliance. It's important to understand where your business has nexus and how this may impact your taxes and reporting requirements.
